Dear Amy Tomlinson:

On behalf of the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC), we are pleased to congratulate the Lake Cumberland District Health Department on its reaccreditation by the Public Health Accreditation Board (PHAB).

Your achievement conveys your organization's commitment to continuous improvement of health department services provided to the people in your jurisdiction. Participation in the national accreditation program is a meaningful way to demonstrate accountability to national standards. Your reaccreditation lets your partners and community know that you have continued to strengthen and advance your performance since receiving initial accreditation five years ago.

CDC recognizes the time and effort that leaders and staff members from your health department dedicate to improving performance around the national standards and maintaining your accreditation status. Reaccreditation through PHAB is an impressive accomplishment and we commend the Lake Cumberland District Health Department for this achievement.

Sincerely,
